

Guadeloupe Woodpecker Melanerpes herminieri

3

FEATHERY FACTS

What's that drumming sound? The Guadeloupe Woodpecker finds tasty insects by digging into trees with its beak. It also talks to other woodpeckers by beating out a rhythm. Woodpeckers are very important to other birds that nest in cavities. They make nests in the holes woodpeckers drill in trees.

