

White-breasted Thrasher Ramphocinclus brachyurus

34

FEATHERY FACTS

These birds like to work together. After young birds learn to fly, they will stay in the area and help their parents raise the next batch of chicks. This is called cooperative breeding. They also make loud chattering alarm calls to warn each other of danger.

